

From: Mumtaz Shah
To: Joseph Tanveer
Subject: Fwd: Letter
Date: March 13, 2026 5:14:38 PM

----- Forwarded message -----

From: albert.dean041 albert.dean041 <albert.dean041@sympatico.ca>
Date: Fri, 13 Mar 2026 at 17:10
Subject: Letter
To: <banesai7@gmail.com>

Letter of Appreciation

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express my heartfelt appreciation for the outstanding services rendered by the Charismatic Social Integration of Canada (CSIOC). Over the years, I have witnessed the organization's unwavering commitment to community development, particularly in uplifting seniors, newcomers, and vulnerable individuals who often struggle in silence.

CSIOC has played a remarkable role in promoting seniors' health, dignity, and awareness of their rights. Many seniors in our community face loneliness and isolation, yet CSIOC has created meaningful pathways for them to reconnect with others. Through social media engagement, digital literacy training, and patient one-on-one guidance, seniors are empowered to use cell phones, computers, and online platforms with confidence. This support has not only enhanced their independence but has also restored a sense of belonging and purpose.

I have personally attended several CSIOC events—including community galas, seminars, and workshops—designed for the well-being of both seniors and youth. Programs such as yoga, breathing exercises, and mindfulness meditation have been especially impactful, promoting physical health, emotional balance, and intergenerational harmony.

CSIOC's compassion extends far beyond senior care. The organization has been a lifeline for refugee claimants and newcomers arriving in Canada with urgent needs. CSIOC assists them in securing affordable accommodation, accessing essential household items, and obtaining groceries during their initial settlement period. This immediate support eases their transition and helps them begin their new lives with dignity and hope.

Equally commendable is CSIOC's vigilance in monitoring global cases of persecution and human rights violations. The organization consistently raises its voice in solidarity with oppressed communities, advocating for justice and human dignity wherever they are threatened.

CSIOC also champions multiculturalism, anti-racism, anti-hate initiatives, and the celebration of diversity. Their work fosters a more inclusive, compassionate, and united society—values that are essential to Canada's identity and future.

I extend my deepest gratitude to CSIOC for its tireless service, its compassionate leadership, and its profound impact on countless lives. The organization stands as a beacon of hope, humanity, and social integration in our community.

Sincerely,

Albert Dean

Phone: 905-567-7348

Address: 1454 Evenside Crescent,
Mississauga, ON L5M 3X7